Saturday, November 25, 2000 - 10:00 AM

Your desire will be granted, moreover, it meets ours. You know difficulties we encounter in France and the decisions they lead us to take. It is upsetting, but what to do against such forces? In the past, you could think that there was some exaggeration in our comments. You can see now, and will see even more in the future, that such was not the case.

"Fortunately the Mission is soaring in other countries where freedom of thought and action is intact. On this issue, France should review the slogan that characterized her. Do not be saddened by new rules that will be implemented in this country, as well as in other neighbouring countries. Old Europe is like a big, aged and fragile lady, submissive to a powerful ancestral entity that re-emerges when one imagined it to be weakened. Your devotion and your practice must not be affected; on the contrary, future ordeals should reinforce it.

"The Mission advances, the Mission grows, so be it in your hearts. Continue on your way, in spite of the abusive politics of this country. Your longing to go forward must not slow down on any account."

Babuji