Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, March 12, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

Let yourself be carried, and forget the world in these moments when our hearts communicate. These are more than written messages; they elevate the soul in a way that cannot be easily imagined on the human level. Why would we give them for so many years if they were not conveying 'messages' that are more subtle than what appears. Very refined beings perceive them accordingly; be that as it may, the messages still play their role — one that is not insignificant. Humans still have so much to learn, and so we insist that these documents be preserved for the future, when a different approach to spirituality will be implemented. Most of humanity will have completely evolved and these documents will be studied for what they reveal about current times. The upcoming major changes will also bring about positive aspects and a more subtle approach to phenomena that are currently so misunderstood.

"Ancient civilisations knew what is ignored by most of today's humans. People have no idea of the level of consciousness attained by some extraordinary beings who have left behind many sites on this Earth, the reality of which today's most informed people have not grasped. So many discoveries are yet to be made here below, and they will leave the specialists astounded in the face of an amazing truth. Spiritual growth is a means of accessing true wisdom, that which has left its mark in this world from time immemorial through enigmas which modern humans have not yet resolved.

"This time of enlightenment will come and all humans will understand the need to progress in order to fill a gap; this will be required in order to achieve a much greater understanding of phenomena. Only spectacular progress can lead beings to this unique space of enlightenment, under our blessings."
