My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, April 26, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

Time creates ad infinitum, orchestrating life on this planet and elsewhere. Such notions may be perceived differently, but time remains the executor of divine power nonetheless. From the infinitely small to the infinitely great, nothing escapes its vigilance, and humans in their smallness must comply with it. Nevertheless, they have many possible choices. If they choose the option of following a spiritual path, this testifies to their sure disposition to rise and win over another realm, one of peace and love. Such a disposition entails overcoming one's weaknesses and personal limits. Love is the fundamental element of such an approach. Rigour is recommended and desirable for success, but love, this very subtle energy, embellishes a soul. The great mystics of the past have influenced their times through actions generated by love. These beings were and still are supported by this extraordinary love that cannot be evaluated or described in human terms.

"Beautiful and great souls follow our way and the Master who represents it in current times. This way has its characteristic principles and a timeless and global action which an abhyasi is unable to grasp. All abhyasis are monitored and understood; even if we cannot change their lives as they wish, they are nonetheless helped and transformed for the better. Developing love within oneself creates a force; devoting oneself to it remains a true challenge, ennobling the whole being. Blessings."

Babuji Maharaj