Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, July 17, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

Everything has its raison d'être, as you well know! Hence the need for surrender. Everything becomes clearer over time and ensures that destiny is fulfilled, even if it is not to the liking of human beings. Following a spiritual path helps one understand and respond appropriately to the vicissitudes of Earthly existence. Interiorising oneself and opening one's heart to the effects of grace allows one to assess the journey travelled. What would an incarnation be without the reassuring perspective that all trials are necessary for achieving the goal? Whether they are aware of this principle or not, human beings are subjected to the laws, which are immutable. Each step is taken for the good, and even if it is painful, it contributes to achieving the best for humans. All this is not easy to understand; accepting it is a sign of wisdom — a wisdom that is only waiting to manifest in all possible situations. Rebelling does not yield anything constructive.

"Everyone does what they can, so instead of judging, one should just provide help with whatever means are available in the given circumstances. To see only the good in everyone testifies to one's wisdom. No one is perfect, and there is quite a distance yet to be travelled; the prospect of success gives every reason for courage. Faith gives support to the seeker, whose efforts are never in vain, no matter what happens. Our brothers and sisters are supported more than they may think, even if their lives are not as perfect as they would like. The goal is within reach and all are moving forward, with our blessings."
