Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, September 3, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

This long pathway of messages will leave our abhyasis with numerous landmarks. It is sometimes necessary to take stock of one's life and act as needed to improve it. Certain events or steps along this journey are critical, allowing one to understand and make decisions — especially those concerning personal evolution when it has been neglected in the past and is now being called for from the depths of one's being. What matters is taking that step and making the right decisions regarding a very special journey capable of changing one's life. There is no time to lose; it is precious, you can be sure.

"The divine laws are impressively rigorous for common mortals. Human beings are so small in the face of that power. They believe they manage their lives, but their karma catches up with them and often imposes that which they did not deem possible. The best and the worst are in line with these principles, hence the need once again to surrender to the supreme power. Rebellion leads to nothing good, you can be sure. Is there anyone who is not eventually faced with the essential requirement of the Divine: to reach the stage of victorious love that tinges everything and every event with its prodigious halo? When one's life is dedicated to the Divine, it is full of surprises. Certain events can occur, changing one's life when a door opens to this higher reality, one that guides our lives according to the best in all of us. Blessings to all."
