Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, April 13, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

The alliance of Masters greatly appreciates this heavenly manna of messages. These writings are authentic, inspired by the hierarchy and intended to help the largest number of hearts in need. Here, we can see beings as they really are; many of them are nourished by these writings that have taken a prominent place in our Mission. This spiritual way has many strengths. Each of our abhyasis finds what they aspire for; a subtle and productive work takes place within them, even if they are not really aware of it. This method is suitable for the current era; it fits perfectly into everyday life and does not require a demanding ritual. The heart, the seat of the soul, holds secrets — the real ones. How can the seeker imagine such effectiveness amid the apparent complexity of this work!

"This way is much more effective than it seems. The results will be revealed in the future, when this world rises to a higher stage of its evolution. It is a characteristic of this world that phenomena manifest slowly, but this is how it is. So much good is unfolding despite the incessant turbulences that are difficult to assess and unavoidable in the current era. Future times will bring many answers to those who are seeking. They will be amazed at the reality of the facts, and they will more easily access the truth. This whole world also has its own evolution; all worlds have their own, distinguishing them on their heavenly journey. The human being is infinitely small compared to all of creation. But this particle of life is important, hence our action — one that is continuous, even if it is not perceived. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être, under our constant blessings."
