My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, April 18, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

These messages nourish your heart, dear scribe, and not only your heart. Their action goes well beyond and has no set limit. They will be appreciated more and more, hence our persistence in giving them. They will accompany you until the end, thus will this beautiful love story leave its mark on receptive hearts that are won over by the effects of this very special transmission. This path of Sahaj Marg does not lack resources; they become more evident over time. Many beautiful souls are sensitive to them. Through our teachings, they manage to take in the unique nourishment that is offered to them. At this turning point in human evolution, it is reassuring to see so many pure hearts committed to this extraordinary journey — one that provides a practice and a teaching within the reach of all. Each one receives according to his or her receptivity. No one is ignored; in our own manner, we support and bless all.

"Thus this way of the heart advances. It wins over more and more hearts that are able to seize this opportunity to move towards the divine source — the one that will not perish, no matter what happens. Divine love is eternal, and ours will not falter, you can be sure. Happy are the beings who are committed; they will go far, supported by our constant attention. Blessings to all."

Babuji Maharaj