Whispers from The Brighter World

Repetitions are necessary, and they are not lacking in these messages; in an area such as this, nothing happens without a reason. It takes time for a human being to advance, to become stronger and to truly grasp the reason for ordeals. Who can really understand it? The divine purposes are beyond human comprehension. Karmic laws affect many lives, which succeed one another, forming the personality of each individual.

"An awareness of higher reality and the divine laws marks an important stage on this path where one's personal histories follow one another, from life to life, and are very similar in some respects. The human being is truly small in the face of the complexity of life, whose true mysteries are far from being understood. Humanity must move forward, but much time will pass before even the most essential thing is grasped by researchers who are not yet necessarily going in the required direction. No matter — it has been said that spirituality will save the world, and there is no doubt about it. To overcome ignorance, cruelty and all that is still taking place in this world today seems impossible, and yet the time for it will come after unprecedented upheavals that will cause humanity to pursue its journey in a different direction.

"We are not there yet; that which exists today must be followed to its conclusion for the fulfilment of that which must come about for the transformation of this world. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être! The Divine provides for it. This is how it is."
