Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, July 7, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

The messages will remain a very precious asset for our Mission, and the future will lend them a certain importance for the good of all our brothers and sisters.

It is said that writings live on, and history sufficiently demonstrates this; so many testimonies are thus accessible and known to the greatest number of people. Our Mission has many strengths, and its expansion in the world creates a large network, thus making all of our teachings, in different forms, available to everyone. Modern life and [its] means of communication are a precious commodity in this respect. This world does not lack resources, and yet happiness and harmony are far from prevailing here below. By nature, human beings always look outside themselves for that which is within their reach, in the innermost depths of their being. It takes time to admit this principle; the heart, seat of the soul, is not easy to comprehend in its spiritual dimension, which is unrecognised as such by a majority of human beings. They are well short of grasping all of these concepts that are completely beyond them.

"The time of knowing will come; it will take centuries and significant changes in the world for all of humanity to awaken to 'reality', that reality which is decisive in each person's process. It all happens precisely at the pace of this world. We help in our own manner, and we make sure that our abhyasis are lifted up through diligent practice and our ceaseless transmission; this enables them to reach a level that can help them on their journey and strengthen them in the face of the ups and downs of life here below.

"With all our love."
