Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, June 10, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

This rendezvous of the heart is awaited on both sides; these writings are important to us. They create a link between the many abhyasis who are attentive to their content and we who want the best for them. The effects of this kind of approach are very positive; we can assess this over time, and it is not commonplace. It is about a rather special teaching, and yet we are not the first ones to use it. The difference is that the process of taking down these messages is known. Precedents have stood out in history, though without being revealed in this manner. That does not matter; only the benefits that they provide are important. The principles of Sahaj Marg are easy to access, and the practice is not demanding. Quite simply, one only has to want it. This commitment can change one's life. It opens up horizons towards an achievement that is so important in human evolution. Alongside a busy life in this material world, other prospects open up for the seeker. This allows a person to understand that an incarnation is not limited to this life and that one can somehow prepare for another life that is consistent with divine purposes — a life that is more in line with one's own requirements for this Earthly journey.

"It is up to each one to realise how short life is, that time lost can never be found again, and that one must do one's level best to achieve the desired goal. Our work supports you all; it's up to you to see."
