Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, October 10, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

It is not an easy task to capture these messages, let alone to tune in to the divine source. This ritual, so well established over so many years, meets the wishes of the hierarchy of the united Masters of Sahaj Marg — for reasons that will one day prove meaningful. The vibration of words is not yet recognised for its true action, beyond which there is transmission, which will soon become noticeable to all. Many things are bound to change here below. The intricacy of the multiple energies that characterise this world will be recognised and effectively appreciated for its true potential at the material level. Everything is vibration here below, at all levels, binding matter together and allowing it to exist. Real action on the spiritual plane occurs here, in this path, beyond words and set rules. One day, they will be perceived in the totality of their action.

"This world has to change — this is not easy to consider, but what matters is to move forward accordingly, albeit slowly. The process is underway and already generating results, although they are not visible on the material plane. These issues must also be raised — it is in the order of things. May all our brothers and sisters realise the importance of this work; one day, they will discover it with satisfaction.

"Special blessings to all."
