Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, November 5, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

Certain beings are sometimes caught in a game of illusion that is manifested by unscrupulous spirits capable of imitating spiritual Masters. We are not the first to suffer such things. Once again, we can revert to the issue and reaffirm the authenticity of these writings, which are unlike the writings of those who claim to be inspired by the Masters and to receive messages dictated by them. In this very special matter, with regard to these messages, no successor [to the medium] has been identified. Egos are being expressed heedlessly in the case of some of our brothers and sisters who let themselves be carried away by what they believe is right — alas, without advancing in truth. It is heartbreaking that after so many years such things are still happening.

"These messages being noted down here over a long period of time are genuine; this does not need to be proven. What else can we say except to express our dismay about this matter. Life goes on here and elsewhere. One should go beyond the vicissitudes of this world, seeing only the beautiful, the real good in humanity. Though it is drifting, this humanity maintains certain values in many human beings — faith, courage and a sincere commitment towards the Masters of the Mission carried by our dear Kamlesh, who will not be spared the appalling behaviour of some abhyasis. He should be careful, with our full support."
