Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, March 11, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

The kingdom of heaven, the afterlife as it is called, is a vast space that cannot be defined in human terms. Worlds coexist, each one having its own laws, privileges and peculiarities. Earthlings carry on with their journey elsewhere, and they are guided most specially when they have had a spiritual Master incarnated on this Earth. Most of them continue on this path, one that here below opens doors for them onto a vast space where divine laws are manifested in all their reality, allowing for the achievement of a perfect balance in the process of evolution. In this manner, one gains sufficient wisdom, saving valuable time. Guidance becomes clearer and clearer by the day; commitment of the heart is crucial, hence the importance of Sahaj Marg, which especially works towards the evolution of the being through action that can be felt on the points of the heart targeted in this extraordinary method. The results are significant, you can all be sure. We have said it often enough, but how can we do otherwise here below, where — for all intents and purposes — repetition is endless. Everything is repeated over and over in the many manifestations of life. What would this world be without this eternal principle, as willed by the higher power so often mentioned in these lines.

"May these messages sensitise our brothers and sisters to the importance of this extraordinary journey for their personal evolution."
