Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, March 12, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

Our relationship will not end; it will continue very far in time in the service of a great cause and at different levels of consciousness. Spirituality's action is not limited in this Earthly world. It continues very far in time, up to the Infinite, one might say. Let us consider this moment: this daily exchange that produces many more effects than it seems. Why would we give these messages — these very ones that actually emanate from the Source — if they were not of great importance. In the future, they will stand as a representative teaching of our Mission.

"The upheavals yet to come will not affect this rapidly growing movement. It will become a solid and decisive basis in this domain for people's progress towards an unprecedented opening, for the good of all. The action of this spiritual path will produce real results that will be very interesting to evaluate in terms of the benefit to human beings. Such a long way remains to be travelled. To imagine it with all its benefits constitutes a positive vision of a future that is so often and rightly alluded to. Current life in this world is the result of past actions. Everything is so slow here below. This pace cannot be changed at present; it is the result of a planetary movement that is within a system whose precision is exemplary.

"May each of our brothers and sisters work for the good, under our endless blessings."
