Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, April 8, 2016 — 10:00 am

These messages are more important than they may seem. They emanate from our hearts, united in an extraordinary action. This action originates in India, the country chosen by the Grand Masters for good reason; time will confirm these remarks. This action casts upon the world an energy that has a very special vibration capable of generating the best in the very many hearts that are calling for it. This aspiration for the Divine will keep growing in the future. The time will come when this necessity will prevail naturally, in compliance with an overall evolution of human beings in response to the new era. Everything is very slow here below, but it can all change quickly too, in order to adapt to the vibratory movement of the elements of this created world that is ever fluctuating.

The divine power imposes its law, which is beyond human comprehension; so many phenomena remain unknown, totally escaping human imagination. In the field of spirituality, other rules apply: purity of the heart, surrender and steadfastness in the practice. In this realm a sacred space is created in each person, where the best can be accomplished. The need for such action expresses itself in the life path of each person. Karma, as it is called, establishes the rules of life for all. Nothing is in vain. Everything is counted and cannot remain hidden from this power that is so decisive for the future of humanity.

Rest assured, everything will change. You are all engaged in this path of the heart — you could not do better. It's up to each one to act, supported by our care.
