Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, April 20, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

These messages will become more important over time; you can be sure that they were not given in vain. As we have said many times already, they will be a precious asset in the future. Why would thousands of such writings exist if they were not very important for our Mission! The future will justify these words. So many changes will occur in the world; reference points will be necessary for humans in order to allow them to follow the course of their lives. Sahaj Marg will unite, in a certain way, those who are committed to this system; beyond any borders, there will remain that which is the essence of a spirituality operating for the good of all. May peace be with each and every one. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être? Trials, joys and diverse torments are among the components of an incarnation; no life escapes the law of karma, which is decisive in each incarnation.

The unity of Sahaj Marg is important; it is the basis of its strength and greatly increases its action in the heart. All this is not visible to human eyes, yet the work that is being accomplished in Sahaj Marg merits attention once again. Life is short compared to eternity, but every link in the chain deserves particular attention — a salutary action that produces the best. The Mission is a coherent whole that is growing stronger, supported by the unprecedented action of the powers that guide it. Everything is as wished; that which must be, will be.

Endless blessings to all.
