Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, July 23, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

Our dear Parthasarathi has handed over his place as his predecessors have done. Nevertheless, he is watching over the Mission and all the abhyasis who are following us. They benefit from our joint action, that of the united Masters who support the elected and current Master. Time passes, but nothing changes unless it is for the better since we all want the best in every respect for our followers. May this celebration unite hearts more and more; this force generates the very best that can be, creating a powerful egregore that characterises a spiritual way such as this. Our blessings are bestowed on each of our brothers and sisters. May this union of hearts result in the best — we are seeing to it.

Blessings to all.
