Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, July 31, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

Serenity is invoked here, the connection with the Masters, the Divine in its essence, vital to life. The world is sorely lacking this inner peace, which is obtained through regular practice and the total commitment of hearts. We can witness over time the results obtained on this path; they are uplifting, and in the long run they create a strikingly beautiful aura. It is well worth emphasising, as this perception is not easily acquired. All our brothers and sisters are truly proceeding in the right direction; faithfulness generates a perceptible and very significant transformation. In this confused world where violence is growing, it is very commendable to glimpse a space where serenity prevails — why would it not? The Divine will change the world one day — for good.

Special blessings.
