Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, August 1, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

The world of silence is unfolding before you. There lies the peace of the soul, that which enables this unprecedented occurrence — thousands of pages written for the good of this Mission. Our ceaseless repetitions have their purpose; open and sensitive hearts find a special nourishment in them, and the future will fully reveal their effects. Everything is for the best. Our actions will continue over time — differently, but very effectively, you can be sure. The new era that is dawning will bring about changes at all levels. The refuge of faith has always been salutary, and so will it be in the future. Overall, the world is yearning for the Divine — without, however, grasping its reality. This reality can transform a life for good reasons. Such are karmic laws; they cannot be circumvented. Working for the good of all, for the opening of consciousness, of minds towards spirituality — such is the focus of our aim in this system.

To all, peace and success in every respect, under our blessings.
