Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, August 11, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

There is so much suffering on this Earth! It cannot be averted; such are the laws of Karma. It is not easy for a human being to understand the meaning of these laws; this is how it is, one might say — what else can one do? An incarnation is never simple; it is different for each person, yet instructive and formative in many respects. To a certain extent, following a spiritual path helps one better understand why things are as they are. Historically, there has been a significant winning over of hearts on this path that is so decisive for all. There is no time to lose — time is so very precious. May all our brothers and sisters realise this and seize the opportunity offered to them to truly move towards the Eden to which all aspire. Everything is done accordingly for the good of each person; rest assured, no one is forgotten, come what may.

To each one, the best possible, under our blessings.
