Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, September 19, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

Your sufferings are not in vain, as we have said many a time. Your beautiful contact yesterday with our beloved Kamlesh was a delight for your heart; we thank him for that. Noble soul, be strong. This process will surely be important for the future. We bless and thank your dear sisters who surround you with care especially through this difficult spell. They benefit in some way from our constant blessings upon this extraordinary place. It will remain so, and this will be proved in its own manner in the future.

Very special blessings to all.
