Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, October 16, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

Dearest and great son Kamlesh,

This acquisition[1] is a true blessing for our Mission. Thus has it been planned for a long time. Little by little, all the elements are falling into place in order to give this way of Sahaj Marg all its rightful scope, such as the Masters of the Hierarchy have wished since the inception of this way. Great events will come in order to perfect that which already exists. Everything in its time; the future will astonish. Substantial expansion will occur, definitively establishing the sacred edifice of our Mission as a whole.

To you, dearest son, the best there is — you are carried by our love. Even if life as a whole is not easy, what must be will be, and the special blessing from all of us here carries you, and will carry you, beyond all your expectations, although it is not humanly perceptible. Much love to you and to all beings who are dear to you, and upon the entire Mission, of course, with our very special attention on this blessed day.

Babuji Maharaj
