Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, October 9, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

What can we say without repeating ourselves; such is the very principle of life. The Sahaj Marg Mission is continuing on its path. It is luminous and, going forward, it is unfolding in a very satisfactory manner. These messages are its masterpiece in which everyone can find the nourishment that is right for them. The Master of this spiritual way holds powers which he cannot even imagine; his action is sovereign and far more vast than it appears. Carried by our energies, he operates on several levels of consciousness without truly realising this himself. When he comes to join us, he will understand our comments and realise, as we ourselves did, the scope of this work on the evolutionary and sacred principle of the human being. In spite of being very decisive for all, the effects are not easily assessed; nevertheless, they are real — the soul of each one is on an ascending and highly salutary path, under our very special attention.

The best to each one, under our constant blessings.
