Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, November 26, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

The laws that govern your world and ours are totally different; everything concerning both of these worlds has been decided and planned for a long time, without anyone being able to change anything. That is just as well for the general balance — human beings cannot understand everything. How could they, being subjected to the divine laws, whether they like it or not. Sahaj Marg is forging ahead under the attentive eye of that power and especially under the eye of the united Masters. We make sure to help our dear and great son Kamlesh; although nothing is easy for him, he is following a path that is promising in every respect. He is quite rightly the chosen one of our hearts for this Sahaj Marg Mission which over time will leave a substantial mark, you can be sure. Each of our brother and sister abhyasis participates in this great and unifying movement, unique among its kind. Only time reveals the intentions, the deep reasons, for an action like this, one that is capable of generating results beyond what can currently be imagined. The history of this world is not without an example of this kind, one in which a path — simple and discreet at the outset — managed to cover the world, and for good reason.

May the best be accomplished, helping many hearts open up to the higher reality. All are supported and blessed in a very special manner.
