Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, November 27, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

We will remain united through the heart. Whatever happens, when there is a stop to these messages — the only ones emanating from the Source — our contacts will take place differently. Here, or elsewhere, this bond of our souls will remain and manifest in a different way. Our dear son Kamlesh will always be helped. We are following him step by step without being able to spare him all the worries inherent in this material life. He is up to the task, shall we say, and we appreciate his way of dealing with issues both materially and spiritually. Each one of the Masters of this Mission has had to face up to things, and this is the case even more so today.

We are very confident about the future. Everything seems to be falling into place for the better: the Mission is expanding in the world, and India is no longer the central point of spirituality as it was before. This country has changed a great deal and that is well, in a certain manner. This aspect of life is so important — many souls in the world yearn for the Divine and await in some way a spiritual path like Sahaj Marg, one that is effective and not demanding. The results of this method are more and more evident to us. May they become so for the greatest number — such is our dearest wish.

Babuji Maharaj