Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, December 1, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

What can we say apart from transmitting through these writings a very special energy perceived by hearts that are sensitive to this characteristic vibration. This long journey of messages is unique among its kind, as desired by the higher Hierarchy; it meets their wishes exactly. Thus this celestial manna constitutes a real blessing for the Mission. Each of the living Masters has provided the Mission with their personal touch, enabling it to position itself in a special manner for the good of all abhyasis who trust us and whose numbers are constantly growing. The world is changing, and so is the aspiration to the Divine. As was foreseen, the progress and numerous material conveniences of the modern world cannot meet the expectations of that which constitutes the essential part of a human being, namely, the aspiration to the Divine — an aspiration that is profound even if it is not always easily revealed. Many obstacles stand in the way of it, obstacles that are specific to a time that is troubled in more than one manner. Whatever is divinely intended always ends up prevailing, and for the good of all, which delights us.

Blessings to all once more, for the fulfilment of that which must be, and will be.
