Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, December 13, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

In these blessed moments, forget the relentless movement of life that surrounds you. Within you, in the heart of silence, there is peace and harmony. These words repeated over the years create the ritual, one that connects our hearts to yours, and thereby to the hearts of all the abhyasis who read our comments. Thus are they blessed. We do not give these messages in vain, even though they are not a 'literary' work — such is not our goal. Their action goes far beyond what humans can appreciate. The messages are understood by all, and this is the most important thing; each one interprets them in his or her own manner, deriving the necessary benefits from them. This celestial manna will remain a valuable asset for our Mission over time.

The Sahaj Marg way is a whole that is effective and productive of the best. Of that you can be sure. Beyond appearances lies 'reality', that which transcends human understanding. The messages are also retained and appreciated on other levels of consciousness, where a specific vibration flows. That vibration is created by the union of souls of our faithful abhyasis who have definitely chosen beyond this world to unite and work in the service of our cause, that of a spiritual way that is much more active than it appears here below.

To all abhyasis, the best that can be, from our united hearts.
