Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, December 15, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

The Sahaj Marg Mission is growing; so is its force of action. Dispersed throughout the world, it creates an important vibratory web, you can be sure. This action is subtle and operates at important levels that are particularly appreciated as far as this aspect of things is concerned. Such is the distinctive feature of our way: it works for the good with such simplicity, yet with an efficiency that is remarkable to us — we who can fully assess its positive effects. A new era is dawning and being prepared slowly to better secure its foundations and the far-reaching effects it will generate. Everything is bound to change on planet Earth, where important cycles have made it evolve as required by the higher will. This will is inescapable; everything is planned and counted in the smallest detail. The apparent chaos prepares and puts into place elements that will become decisive in the future. Everything will need to be reconsidered. From the dawn of time the human being has adapted to cosmic demands, and this will not change. To all our brothers and sisters, we wish commitment and progress towards the goal, while working accordingly to achieve the best.

Thus is accomplished that which must be. Blessings to all.
