Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, November 12, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

This contact is much more than it seems; a special transmission is taking place through it. These messages are charged, which differentiates them from those taken down elsewhere and often with good intentions. It is worth repeating that it is necessary to stay with those messages that we give here. In the future, our dear Kamlesh will have to be wary of the many imitators; they are fooled by unenlightened spirits, as there are many of them, unfortunately. This realm is not spared from all that characterises human nature. In terms of quantity, our messages are unique among their kind, and we are delighted by how far they reach within this Mission and beyond. They will remain a very precious asset for all our abhyasis.

This way of Sahaj Marg has ample resources; they will become apparent over time. Everything is compelled to change in the right direction, which is rather reassuring for the evolution of the world and that of our spiritual path which is aligned with life on Earth as a whole. Aiming for perfection, striving to approach it as best as possible, is positive. Good actions have a profound meaning — they are very useful for the human race.

Let us work for the good, over and over again. One day, the divine goal will be reached. This is how it is.
