Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, March 12, 2017 — 10:00 a.m.

Life is a long series of experiences, some of which are challenging but necessary in the long run. Following a spiritual path saves precious time; it clarifies parameters and stabilises a person's life. These messages constitute a teaching that is very simple, yet edifying when it is received with all the necessary openness of heart. Cleanings, meditations and the unique transmission provide much more than is apparent. Why continue to take down these messages, you will say. They too have a select place in this Mission; they are appreciated by many of our brothers and sisters and provide benefits that can be evaluated over time. Following a spiritual path is enlightening; it is rediscovered from life to life, constituting a considerable contribution, you can be sure.

To all, our ceaseless blessings for the best to be accomplished.
