Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, March 26, 2017 — 10:00 a.m.

You must rest today; the number of messages is large enough to warrant a break for rest. These writings have been conveying beautiful things and words of love towards all our brothers and sisters for so many years that a time of interiorisation and meditation will suffice for our dear scribe, and for all our brothers and sisters who are attentive to these lines. We wish the best to all, under our ceaseless blessings.

Babuji Maharaj