Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, April 4, 2017 — 10:00 a.m.

This long journey of messages will conclude serenely, after so many heart-to-heart contacts experienced with happiness on both sides. Many of our brothers and sisters value them, and in reading them, they are nourished by an extraordinary energy. Time will grant these messages a place of honour in the history of Sahaj Marg. All the spiritual paths that have influenced this world are based on writings of this kind emanating from the divine source. Such nourishment has been necessary for human beings since the dawn of time, and this is how it is. They assimilate a teaching that is necessary for their evolution. Sahaj Marg provides the seeker with much more than is apparent; time will once again highlight its benefits. Minds are changing and benefitting greatly from what is offered to them. May the best come about for all our brothers and sisters in this quest for the Divine.

Blessings to all.
