Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, April 15, 2017 — 10:00 a.m.

The union of valiant hearts in our Mission creates a magic chain that carries it daily. When focused on what is essential, the abhyasi who is eager to pursue his or her quest is enthused about the results obtained; one cannot really measure the effects of this subtle and unexpected work in the long term. Each of the past centuries has been able to assess the limits imposed by materiality; wise human beings try to see farther and more correctly in their conception of things. Many centuries have helped enlighten the world, opening prospects for a promising future. A major spiritual advancement will be decisive, and Sahaj Marg, in its own manner, is preparing it.

Much effort and understanding will be required to lead this world to a more true approach to the Divine. Everything must change, chiefly minds, otherwise nothing great can develop. Everything is being prepared towards a prospect that is as appropriate as possible. It is up to each and every one to contemplate this prospect and to create within themselves that which is suitable for it. For our part, we are working for the greatness of this world, such as it is envisioned.

This is how it is.
