Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, May 25, 2017 — 10:00 a.m.

Life repeats itself; the same events recur tirelessly, and these unchanging actions nourish life over the course of time. Human beings cannot escape their karma; destiny cannot be circumvented. Following a spiritual path makes it possible to better grasp these laws, to understand them, and to grow while accepting their rigour. The true simplicity of Sahaj Marg helps one progress and allows one to understand why conforming to it is good. A wise human being seeks to advance against all odds; each incarnation is a link in the magical chain in which the Divine takes on its full meaning. It is so good to refine oneself, to truly be aware of this process and to conform to the lessons given by life through all its phases of expression. Everyone must come to terms with their karma — the divine laws are unavoidable.

May the best come about for all.
