Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Saturday, July 24, 2010

Birthday of Parthasarathi Maharaj

An event of this nature in our Mission calls for in-depth and focused attention. It is always a milestone for you, my son, but also for all our brothers and sisters. A day like this, in such a far-reaching spiritual movement, must permanently impact people's minds; hence our insistence in these messages. These celebrations are important pauses for the Master and for all abhyasis. Let peace reign in your heart and in the hearts of the beings who follow us with faith and love. May it carry you very high, my dearly beloved son.

[Later]

Blessed, blessed are you. This day is unique; it marks the culmination of your reign in this spiritual realm, one that is yours within a far-reaching path. This path leaves its mark on the present time and much more. It will stand out in the future as self-evident. All is well. Be at peace.

Babuji