Babuji's Birthday – Message 1

My dearest son,
This is yet one more step in our Mission, and a good reason, absolutely, to express our love – that which carries you, as much as possible. We would like to do so much more to make your task easier. Human laws are inflexible; we will often have to remain powerless, unable to help you in the face of your many difficulties. Such is the challenge to be taken up: a Master's greatness is measured by his stature, which allows him to cope with so much disappointment. You do not lack joys either, as you are loved so much by the devotees of the Mission, all these people around you who revere you, from near or far.

We appeal to young abhyasis to unite and act for the good of this magnificent organisation which will mark future times by raising peoples awareness. These abhyasis are the leaven through which we expect wonders. Faith, love, and sincere commitment are the greatest builders before the Eternal.

We thus design a spiritual Mission capable of bringing about change in the world. It is up to you, my dear son, to continue to grant it its full panache: it will mark the coming centuries.

May our love carry you closer and closer to the divine splendour, and may this anniversary be prepared with fervour.

Babuji
