Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, August 29, 2012 — 9:00 a.m.

Think of absolute beauty, of harmony and peace among humans. Wouldn't that world be ideal? To dream of it is a beginning. A world in which evolved beings would respect one another and together build that universe where spirituality unites all humans with the divine power — thoughts of this kind are constructive, so why not!

Let us return to reality, dear soul — it is advisable here to act for the good of our brothers and sisters who are on the way to the ideal described above. Following a spiritual path is an edifying process; it shows that our abhyasis have an inner tendency that is conducive to their blossoming. How many people care about their evolution? Being part of this elite group is reassuring, even if the path is strewn with pitfalls. What matters is commitment, moving forward and getting more and more involved in a practice that bears fruit. Time will demonstrate the accuracy of these statements. To act in the direction of the soul's elevation, isn't it the noblest cause there is! We propose a course of action, an apparently simple method, yet one that truly bears fruit. Sooner or later in the cycle of reincarnations, it is necessary to commit oneself in this direction. Realisation remains the ultimate goal to be attained in this long journey of the soul towards its chosen homeland.

May all understand the issue and act towards what is good, for themselves and for all; such is our wish.
