Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, December 3, 2012 – 10:00 a.m.

We are moving forward, my dear daughter; you are receiving sufficient evidence concerning the progress of these messages. Many of our abhyasis now realise what these messages bring to their spiritual journey. All this is encouraging; here, we can thus assess their impact. It takes a lot of time for a way like ours to truly prevail in this world. The perception of phenomena is changing; many people are being refined and truly progressing. One by one, doors are opening for them, giving them the motivation to go further. Some personal experiences are decisive, as was the case for you. It is not always easy to immediately adhere to what we propose. Time does its work, as in all things. Important mutations will occur on this Earth, and they will modify human understanding regarding the power of the Spirit over matter. Nothing is futile. Everything is counted and, as we have already pointed out here, recorded. This principle is not new; it has always been so. Whether one is open to spirituality or not, this fact is for all time and will remain so until the end of time.

Advancing in surrender to the spiritual Master is a major element in such a journey. His decisions must be respected; he is a guiding thread, shall we say, leading seekers to a reserved place that is decisive in their quest for the Divine. Such subtle work takes place, in part, without their knowledge; they cannot themselves perceive what is really accomplished within them. Blessed are the wise, those who are committed in this quest. It saves them a lot of time; they will judge this for themselves one day. This is how it is.
