Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, January 4, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

A new year begins for this Mission that is so important to us. It has our full attention, as does our very dear Parthasarathi, our Chosen son who is blessed by the gods. It is so gratifying to see the expansion of this way that is adapted to present times and increasingly capable of winning over hearts in a future rich in transformations and new developments of all kinds. Humans will have to adapt; they will have no choice. But after much turmoil, a new world will emerge from the chaos and will establish here below other rules and laws adapted to the current situation. Many humans will then understand the need to advance spiritually in a constructive manner. Notions of life beyond this life and of reincarnation will finally be adopted by the great majority of people. It is time for true knowledge to spread across the world; humans cannot eternally stagnate and limit themselves to incorrect teachings. In reality, a life on Earth is short; time should not be wasted, as it is very precious. Everything is counted and interpreted, and it either does or does not contribute to the elevation of the soul. Time is pressing; it is infinitely precious. May this awareness spread to all human beings and encourage them to produce the best here below.

May the time soon come for this renewal, for peace on this Earth and for a global action for the good of all, under our blessings.
