Try to figure out the holy alliance of these great souls in the service of the Almighty.

"Think of the work which is being done not only for humanity, but also on the universal level.

"It is a beautiful example of communion between these beings, beyond fraternity – this word not being appropriate for the reality of this sacred union. It represents a great force, a powerful egregore where each one plays their part and sticks to it without fail.

"We will not insist; take rest and remain in the remembrance of your Beloved. He will come as he has said."
