Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, January 23, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

You keep this love intact inside yourself, along with an eagerness to serve us that does not wane over the years. Against all odds, you continue to maintain this uncommon readiness to listen; we appreciate it. One day, our abhyasis will truly understand the importance of these messages; they will need them more and more in the face of life's difficulties.

A spiritual dimension is a very special refuge for a human being. Advancing on a path like ours strengthens a person, not only in this incarnation, but also for the continuation of his or her journey beyond this world. An approach of this kind opens perspectives onto the Infinite and is a great help; it saves a lot of time.

Reading a message like this one goes well beyond the act of reading – it is about uniting with the heart of the Masters while letting oneself be carried by a special vibration capable of stimulating the psychic centres.

The short amount of time devoted to this reading bears fruit. It is not easy for all our brothers and sisters to understand these mechanisms in a society where the senses are constantly on alert and focused on the multiple ups and downs of present-day life. The wise understand the need to devote time to their practice; it is a very valuable contribution, although it cannot be easily assessed.

Blessed are our abhyasis. A day will come when they will understand how productive their approach is.

We wish the best to all, and in every respect.

Babuji