Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, January 29, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

Here, there is peace and harmony; isn't this what your heart yearns for! This preamble leads it to the serenity that is suitable here in this sacred ritual where our souls are attentive to your souls and, thanks to these writings, infuse a vibration into your hearts. Many of our faithful readers feel that vibration and they fill themselves with it completely. These messages have multiple effects, and the more refined the being, the more he or she benefits from them.

Nothing in our Mission is done without reason. Over time, some aspects of the practice will be highlighted, as we have done in the previous message concerning the possibilities offered by the new symbol. Each one must be left to their own understanding of things; we propose and our abhyasis experiment and practice in their own way within the framework of our teaching. This teaching may seem very simple, but a steadfast practice, done with the greatest keenness and with a fervent heart, leads a being to the best results. For many of our brothers and sisters, this commitment has in some way changed their lives. Subtlety is developing in them imperceptibly, but surely. This is a major advantage in a process like this.

Going beyond appearances, exceeding in some way the potential which is given to humans in this current incarnation, shows the aspiration of the subtle being towards self-realisation. How many human beings follow such a process and are aware of what characterises them beyond physical appearances? Not many, in reality, compared to the actual number of humans inhabiting this planet. Our abhyasis are somehow privileged; they are aware of what is offered them and they are nourished by it according to their own care and attention. The call of a fervent heart is always heard; we never remain insensitive to its impulses towards us. All, according to their longing, benefit from our attention. There is light at the end of the road; a day will come when, to our great delight, each one of them will discover it.

May all our aspirants motivate themselves towards this prospect, carried by our love towards them. This is how it is.
