Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, March 8, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

May peace and harmony reign over the entire Mission. Beyond the borders and all the human limitations of language, lifestyle and other characteristics, only the language of the heart must be established and unite all our aspirants. That would be a big step forward, building up our Mission in a remarkable manner. All are equal, no one is perfect – only the longing of the soul to find its way, to rise above the miasmas of this world, motivates them.

Such momentum in so many countries testifies to a need, a necessity to go beyond matter and look for that which justifies the cycle of incarnations on this Earth. There are many reasons; the most obvious one is the aspiration to progress, to become more refined in relation to the higher planes, in order to attain levels that are more subtle and difficult to reach. The road is long, and efficient help is precious. An experienced person manages to grasp this necessity for progress and subtlety on his or her journey in order to reach the goal. It is not easy to achieve; one has to go beyond certain vibrational levels in order to become lighter and more refined.

There lies the main purpose of life: to take responsibility for oneself in human terms as best as possible under conditions that are conducive to overcoming oneself. It is not easy to manage everything; we too experienced difficult situations. They are necessary and unavoidable. An incarnation is an opportunity for human beings to grow, to assert themselves in what motivates them on all levels. Our way is conducive to this work; it offers opportunities which, if well accepted and put into practice, will lead the seeker to his or her best condition. What drives seekers and becomes decisive for them is this profound aspiration to the Divine, the complete union with the incarnate spiritual Master, holder of the means suitable for this elevation of the soul in the best possible conditions.

Peace in the hearts and success to all: such are our wishes, under our blessings.
