Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, March 10, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

The idea of the symbol is making its way. The time has come; on Earth, everything moves slowly – that is how it is. The symbol provides some basic elements, and each person can integrate it into their practice according to their convictions and the importance this Sahaj Marg path represents for them. This way will unfold over time and it will, in due course, reveal all the subtleties that characterise it and its importance for human evolution as well. Nothing is useless in this area.

Everyone sees things in his or her own way, but the basic structure is inescapable; it does not require any addition to what has been given so far. The living Master is the pathfinder, and through his actions on the human plane, he demonstrates the power of the united Masters. They form the solid core involved in this action that is rapidly expanding, starting from a basis that has been elaborated over a very long period of time for the good of humanity. At such a level, everything is done according to the divine laws, with full respect for the traditions in this domain.

It is important to provide today's men and women with what is required to enlighten and guide them on the path of evolution. Our faithful abhyasis are well aware of it. Simplicity does not mean a lack of effectiveness, as is evident from the results obtained by many. In this context, the commitment is not very demanding, although it is called for at all levels in these so-called modern times. A wise person manages to secure moments of interiorisation when his or her subtle being can be nourished according to its inner call. Then peace can be established in him or her and manifest in all its subtlety. May all know how to put things into perspective and not neglect this innermost call emanating from the soul, which so many human beings want to ignore.

Blessings to all.
