Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, March 18, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

There is always strength in reserve. Is it not inside you – in the depths of your being, where every time, carried by love, you find the energy to act and to tune in to us in this way. There lies the source that flows, and it strengthens you. Aren't your noblest actions inspired by it! The best of the human being exists there, since the divine energy inspires a person when he or she calls upon it. All human beings hold this treasure; the true purpose of their life is there, within them, and they must therefore discover it.

Our way is working towards this; there is always a means to achieve it when the heart is motivated in its actions. With effort upon effort, the seeker reaches the goal. Having a guide is important, and reaching the highest summits entails total commitment and sustained action. The truly committed mystic finds the means to act and organise his or her life accordingly. Managing everything at once is not easy, but where would success be without effort! We are happy to see all our aspirants not only advancing, but also managing to put things into perspective and to develop themselves accordingly.

The guiding thread that leads to the goal lies in this: knowing how to get involved at the material level and cultivating inside oneself this rare flower – that of the Spirit, capable of elevating the soul to the highest summit under the beneficial and promising waves of our love. A soul that opens up under the powerful effects of the rays of love saves valuable time. In this, the living Master is the appropriate guide – he knows what is to be done and what he can do. These powers are vested in him so that he can fulfil his mission here below. He is doing it wonderfully; under his action a soul becomes more beautiful and merges into this powerful wave, capable of performing miracles. Everything is possible at this level. When a call is deep and sincere it is always heard; in that case, everything is done to answer it according to the divine rules and laws.

May the best be accomplished for all; we are seeing to it, you can all be sure.
