Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, March 19, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

Plunging into oneself like this – is it not magical! This ritual is the blessed moment when the soul is in ecstasy; it wins over hearts in the most beautiful manner. Is there anything more beautiful, more intoxicating, than this mystical union with the inner Master, realised within oneself and resulting from a process capable of leading to this level!

These moments are very precious in a life in which the whole space is dominated by materiality. The being who is inspired and motivated on his or her path knows how to balance things and sets aside the necessary time in a day to attend to his or her most subtle needs – ones that produce noble effects. 'Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see the light,' so was it said. May this inner light dawn upon each of our aspirants and lead them on this unique path of enlightenment.

A spiritual process like ours requires personal commitment and determination to move towards a noble goal: that place reserved for beings who are motivated and ready to conquer this sacred space. Achieving the goal is a rare opportunity offered to the seeker who is filled with a great fervour towards the incarnate Master, who holds the necessary powers for this realisation. Everything is possible; God is great, and mighty are the Great Beings who are incarnate and vested with such a mission. In this domain, everything is a mystery to humans. The divine laws are impenetrable to them. Only the results obtained matter; there lies the objective for a motivated seeker.

All our aspirants are followed and supported in their quest for the Divine. May they never doubt it; this is our commitment here – it is up to each one to feel and appreciate the effects of it.

This is how it is.
