Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, May 3, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

This birth anniversary has created a stir along with many surges of love and faith in this system. In this regard, these special days are all very important in our Mission. They unite the Master and the abhyasis even more, wherever they may be. Not everyone has the opportunity to make long journeys, for multiple reasons; you are in a good position, my daughter, to know this. No one is forgotten. A deep call from the heart is always heard.

Loving one's Master is important; there is more than one way to prove it. Whatever one's material means may be, real commitment, sincerity and offered love are perceivable to us at the highest level of consciousness. Everything is perceived in the smallest detail. A true impulse of love does not go into space and get lost; it is inscribed in the ledgers of time and forms the most beautiful egregore of our great spiritual Mission.

Thus is developed and affirmed that which is to be. A path like this is adapted to present times; it foreshadows what the future of this world will be like – a world undergoing a radical transformation in preparation for the world of the future. All is well like this. May all our brothers and sisters be truly aware of their commitment, rejoice in their choice and fully enjoy what they receive, for their greater good.

We wish the best to each one and the fervour capable of lifting them above the realities of the material world – a necessary step for everyone's progress.

Endless blessings on this beautiful Sahaj Marg Mission and on all abhyasis.

Babuji