Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, August 6, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

Raise your thoughts towards us and your heart will be fulfilled. These moments of interiorisation – are they not unique for our aspirants! Each one receives according to his or her call; the logic of this is compelling. Following a spiritual way requires a genuine personal commitment in order for reciprocity to work. Blessed are the hearts that are motivated and determined to progress. An incarnation is short in the face of eternity; when such an opportunity is offered, it is wise to devote oneself to it. Step by step, every day, we advance with all those brothers and sisters who are committed to this way of the heart; it is an opportunity offered in these pivotal times preceding what must come and establish itself on the Earth for its greatest good.

Humanity needs to reframe itself in relation to axes essential for its growth. A major step will be taken in order to move towards a general evolution, not only on the human plane, but also in the various kingdoms that define this planet. Each planet has its own prerogatives. Although this concept escapes human beings of today, in a distant future, not only will humans become aware of it and comply with divine laws, but they will also have the greatest respect for all of creation. Then what some beings are dreaming of here below will come about: the acceptance of life in its multiplicity and in all its forms. Evolution will occur on such a scale that human beings will be stunned in the face of such changes. It is good for all to consider such a mutation. Stagnation is only temporary; all will be done at the right time and as foreseen in the evolutionary cycle. It is up to each one to act as best they can under our blessings.
