Whispers from The Brighter World

Love, the love we have referred to so many times, is universal. All great beings and great saints have been nourished by this very special energy capable of transforming the most humble beings into devotees of the Master they revere. This kind of energy is the purest, the most subtle, by which the soul can be satisfied. When the call is strong, the answer inevitably comes, changing one's life and giving it a different orientation. The power of such love has no limits. We are emphasising this point once again, since without that love none of these messages would have existed. They are the fruit of this very special force that gives them life. They are inspired and written in the same stream of delightful energy that is sure to touch hearts deeply when they are able to perceive it. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être? Time lends events their rightful place; what may seem inconsequential today will become obvious tomorrow, as an important fact capable of leaving a definitive mark on time.

Our beautiful path of Sahaj Marg is following its course. It has many advantages for the good of our abhyasis, who need an effective means to progress. The spiritual Master is working for that. The aura of this Mission is growing; it is in line with present times, which are decisive for the future. Blessed are the beings involved in this endeavour, as they are saving valuable time. The strength of this path is increasing, and all contribute to it by their commitment to following their divine Master.
