Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, January 21, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Your sufferings, so well hidden from the eyes of humans, are not hidden from us. Despite them, your perseverance in serving us is carried by an extraordinary love, a love that manifests through all these writings emanating from our united hearts. Open and sensitive beings benefit abundantly from them, and the future will give these messages a place that cannot be imagined; that is how it is. Nothing of this nature is done without reason. The divine power manifests in its own way for the good of all who know how to seize the opportunity.

Repetitions are useful, you can all be sure. They continually punctuate one's days quite naturally, finding their place on the material plane. Spiritual life also deserves constant attention; it has its priorities, which prevail by themselves when called by an ardent heart. Progressing in this direction is the most beautiful accomplishment. When a being is carried by grace, he or she attracts attention and adequate transmission. Glad are the hearts that are sensitive to our action; there are more and more of them, and this delights us.

A perfect world is not for tomorrow; contributing to this transformation is essential. Everything happens very slowly on Earth, based on the vibrations specific to this world, and this we must take into account. Human beings know so little about the complexity of creation; the era of true knowledge is in preparation, taking place very slowly. Many mistakes and miscalculations will continue to mislead seekers, who often commit to a false course. A day will come when the light will shine through in this world of darkness.

Let us all work together towards this raising of consciousness, the goal of our relentless action. May all be carried and enlightened.
